Homor Wilson all Right.

The following is from the Call of Saturday.

In a cable dispatch from Berlin yesterday it was stated that quite a sensation had been created in that city by the mysterious disappearance of two American gentlemen named Homor Wilson and Professor Novi.

This item of sensation lacked somewhat of the full force of a dark and deadly mystery by the locating one of the disappearing persons in the Mills building in this City by a Call reporter yesterday, who met and conversed with Homor Wilson, and from whom the following account of the disappearance of himself and the Russian Count from the German capital was obtained:

"There was nothing mysterious about our appearance in or our disappearance from Berlin," said Wilson.

"My acquaintance and trip with Professor Novi occurred in this wise: I had been well acquainted with Count Novossiltzoff, of Alexia Nowy, the name by which he is known as an American citizen. I had business in Europe and knowing that Nowy was about to go to Russia, we traveled together as far as Berlin.

"The last I saw of him was on November 10, when he left me in Berlin, and I had no reason to believe that anything serious had befallen him. I am at a loss to understand to what the Berlin correspondent could attribute mysterious about our movements.

The new typesetting machine in the Enterprise office goes off the following:

Miss Debie Patton departed last evening to visit San Francisco.

This bolsters up the theory that Long Tom Smith had only the chicken pot.

The second paragraph belonged to another item further down the column, but it didn't get there, hence the confusion apparent in the above.

Rev. Father Clynne will leave for Grass Valley this evening where he has accepted a parish.

A burning chimney back of the Arlington caused a fire alarm last evening.

Miss Maude Brambilla was a passenger for the bay last evening.

BOGUS OPIUM

It is Found at the Carson Track.

U. S. District Attorney Jones found fifty seals of opium buried in a stall at the race track Sunday.

It will be remembered that recently Lee Brooks and Harry Butts got into trouble over a confidence game they played in endeavoring to sell a quantity of opium to a Chinaman. Brooks skipped out but is now serving a sentence in the Washoe county jail for defrauding a Reno man out of $600.

A man named Jordan occupied a cell with Brooks in the Reno jail some time and was made a confidant by Brooks, who told him that he had a quantity of opium buried in one of the stalls at the Carson race track and wished him, as soon as he was released from custody, to go there and take the stuff away so the officers would not find it.

Jordan, instead of doing as requested, immediately informed the Sheriff of Washoe county and he came over Sunday and told the U. S. District Attorney. Together they went down to the track Sunday afternoon and found one can of the stuff containing fifty boxes.

Each box contains one tael or one and one-third ounces. It was taken to Reno by the Sheriff. Several boxes were examined and it was found that the contents were not opium and contained none, but was a mixture of molasses, etc., in imitation of the genuine article. The boxes, however, are exactly like those in which the genuine drug is packed. The wrappings, the trade marks and the Chinese characters are said by those who know, to be absolutely correct. The mixture is the same as that found by the officers near Washoe Lake last week. In that lot there was nearly 300 pounds. It is said however, that in this last find will be found two or three boxes containing the pure opium and if so, the Government will prosecute the men implicated in the deal and the smuggling law. If there is no opium found the matter will be left in the hands of the State.

Commented Upon at Reno.

The action of the board of commissioners at Reno in the post house and the Virginia and Truckee railroad tax case is a subject of general comment, says the Reno Journal. The commissioners, it appears, bought a building to be used as a post house for $25, and let a contract to remove for $350. There was no competition what ever as the job was let privately and while the bill for $350 was allowed to another person one of the commissioners presented an order to the county treasurer and drew the money.

In the railroad tax suit while the county has a salaried officer and the state another to protect the rights of the people in the courts, special attorneys have been employed at a cost of $1000 to bring the suit. The total tax is $5309 and as the expense in addition to the fee of the special counsel will be three or four hundred dollars, how much will the taxpayers gain by refusing the amount offered by the railroad company?

If the county is to be run in the interest of a favored few the sooner the commissioners make an order to that effect public, the better, so that the people will thoroughly understand the situation. As it is they think they have some rights that ought to be respected by those who are sworn and paid to protect their interests and their minds ought to be disabused of the foolish notion.—Silver State

District Attorney Norcross says that the whole railroad tax muddle is because of a bill filed up for the railroads and heartily supported by the Washoe delegation. This delegation was if we recollect aright howling anti-railroad Populists.

A Stray Bullet.

As Tobey Cohn entered his room in the Arlington Hotel the other day he noticed a small hole through the glass of the window, which had been made by a rifle ball. On looking on the opposite side of the room he found where the ball had entered the plaster. He dug the bullet out and is now looking for the man that owns the gun.

Merely Rumor.

It was rumored on the street yesterday that the men who have the lease on the Buckeye property had thrown up their lease and were going to quit work. Mr. Tozier said yesterday that it was merely rumor and that the company intend to go on with the property.

There will be a Solemn Requiem mass this morning at the Catholic Church for the repose of the soul of Mrs. McHugh, who died in San Francisco yesterday.

Beware of Silver Traitors.

What is the most effective way for a professed bimetallic journal to injure the cause of free coinage? By conceding that Democratic goldbugs are the guilty party, and hold them up to the contempt and scorn of the community and assume that the Republican party is innocent of the crime of 1873 by refraining to mention the constant bimetallic record of that party, or, on the other hand, by contending that the Republican party is guilty, not only of the crime of 1873, but of the long catalogue of subsequent crimes, committed by Cleveland Democracy without calling attention to the fact that Grover the First, and his co-conspirators rival Sherman, himself, in their unrelenting war upon the people in favor of an alien syndicate of money changers and gold gamblers. In fact it is the sick in trade of Democrats to charge the demonization of silver upon the Republicans, and of Republicans to charge the Democrats with criminal destruction of silver as a money metal. We hope that all so-called silver papers will take notice that they must be more impartial and they must abuse all goldbugs alike, or rest under the just suspicion of aiding in a sham war between the Democrats and Republicans, as to which is the guiltier party, when everybody knows that Sherman Republicanism and Cleveland Democracy are the same, and we call upon our readers to watch all professed silver men, and all professed bimetallic journals to ascertain whether they are for silver, against all goldbugs, or for deceiving the people as to which of the parties did it, when everybody ought to know that both parties did it and both parties intend to continue to do it and inflict upon this country permanently all the horrors of the single gold standard.—Silver Knight.

Gov Jones' Condition.

The following telegram concerning Governor Jones was received yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock:

General Beatty: Governor Jones had a bad night. Resting easier today. Eugene Howell.

The following was received at 2:00: Governor very weak, but resting easier.

San Francisco, Jan. 12.—Governor Jones had a very bad night. Is resting easier today. No marked change.

A later dispatch reads as follows: San Francisco, Jan. 13.—Governor very weak. He is sinking.

At the time the telegraph office closed he was still sinking and no news received to indicate a more favorable change.

Artistic Wood Printing.

The box factory is turning out orange boxes for E. R. Selley of Los Angeles with a picture of the orange printed in the wood in three colors. The work looks more like a first-class color than mere wood printing. The boxes will not only be an advertisement for Messrs Ellis & Co., but for the whole State. If Nevada can't furnish the orange she can land the finest lot of orange boxes on the coast.

Cited for Contempt.

Yesterday Judge Hawthorne issued papers of citation on E. J. Parkinson for contempt of court.

The case grew out of articles published in the Tribune relative to the sentence of L. W. Stark in an assault case. The case comes before Judge Hawthorne at 10 o'clock this morning.

CHEAP CUSTOM WORK A DECEPTION.

A style of tailoring is rapidly gaining headway which is but an imposition upon the consumer and a detriment to the workman. The cheap custom work or what is called "special order work," is a shrewd dodge for the purpose of deceiving the customer into the belief that he is obtaining custom work at ready made prices. The real worth of custom work lies in the exactness of the fit, and the thoroughness in which it is made. Cheap custom work is therefore inferior to ready made work.

Large concerns, some also engaged in ready made work have grown up of late and depend for patronage upon retail stores, and have numerous agents scattered everywhere soliciting orders and gain trade because of the strikingly cheap prices offered for goods made to order. As a rule these agents seldom obtain an order twice from the same person.

It is about time that this scheme was exposed to the people and ABE COHN of the EMPORIUM shows up the fraud. If you want clothes that fit and are tried on as often as is necessary call at the EMPORIUM Court House Building, Carson City, Nevada.
